D@ngerous Waters

Late again. This month's installment is being written under threat of extreme violence from someone who is apparently going for the "Editor of the Month" award, or something. So bless her little heart for bringing all of you faithful readers the latest issue of Dangerous Waters. The N64 codes are adding up, and those of you who own GoldenEye are in for a treat this issue—codes that are actually useful! No lie, after being locked in the basement for three weeks I was able to come up with...nothing. So they beat the hell out of me. Fifteen minutes later I had some codes for the game. Now if only I could get codes for the rest of the N64 games.

And whilst on the topic of Nintendo, we will soon release GameShark for the Game Boy. Now you will never have to play a game, at home or on the road, without those nifty little codes. We all know the tragedy of playing a game as it was designed. Well, enough dumb plugs for future products, it's almost summertime. Time to head to the beach and slice up some manatees—they really hate that. Put down your games and go outside! Stay there for five whole minutes, then return to your games. The game systems need at least five minutes of down time per season kiddies, so you're good through August now. Grab your favorite cd's, crank up the A.C., order a few pizzas and prepare to Ride The Snake!

t-$hi®t $èc Tio

Don't bother asking for a description. It's a shirt with a shark logo, got it? You will order at least one shirt for yourself and possibly a few more for your friends. You will place an order as soon as you receive this newsletter, no exceptions. After following these instructions you will not remember your name, but the guy over there will help you out if you give him a quarter. Send a $12.00 check or money order to: InterAct Accessories, Inc., ATTN: KRESKIN, 9611 Pulaski Park Drive, Suite #309, Baltimore, MD 21220.

Our first compiled code book holds all the glorious codes from the above issues and more. Released by our dear friends at Prima Publishing, it's a mere $8.00 bucks for a ton of codes. For back issues or for a code book, please send the appropriate amount ($2.00 for each back issue, or $8.00 for the code book) to: InterAct Accessories, Inc. This month's Letters column features letters from our new Rant page on our web site, www.gameshark.com.

Hi CodeBoy,

What's up? Having fun finding new codes? Are you in there all day? You guys find so many codes; you must live in that place. I bet you guys never come out of that building! You might not even get to go to sleep!!! You might stay up all night and all day figuring out new codes.

With respect,
Jim

Just another e-mail from Jim, the guy with the sniper rifle who sits across the street. Jim, we know you are there, that's why we're staying in here. And please don't takes shots at any more delivery boys, we have to eat.

Look Man,

I'm writing because I love the new snowboarding game. It's so interesting. The graphics are great—much better than Clay Fighter 63 1/3. I love all snowboarding games and this one is great. I don't want you bad-mouthing it just because it didn't sell too well. Anyone who buys it will be pleased. Find more codes for good games like Mario Kart 64—the one code you found sucks.
P.S. Your Internet page kicks ass!

Dan Bowen

Dan,
Snowboard Kids sucks, under any condition. You'd think that a 64-bit system could do a better job producing a snowboarding title than the dying Saturn system. Steep Slope Sliders beats that kiddie title any day, and don't even bother to bring up Coolboarders 1 & 2.

Dear CodeBoy,

If you don't finish the text for DW #13 today I will revoke your snorkeling privileges indefinitely. Don't play games with me boy! They don't call me the "Swashbuckler" for nothing.

Sincerely,
The Management

See what I have to deal with folks?

Check out the new album from Supernova (out March 1st), the kings of dork rock. You may recognize Supernova as the band that wrote the insightful ode to Chewbacca featured in the movie Clerks. Well, if you liked that song at all, they've got a whole new roster of songs addressing such issues as playing "Cowboy," running to mommy, and calling 900 lines when no one is home. Supernova's latest is available from Amphetamine Reptile Records who coincidentally distributes for Reptilian Records, a fine independent label which I am in no way associated with.
